

First World War Centenary

Aspects of War

As the centenary of World War One continues to unfold, we mark the 100th anniversary with an on-going series of talks, aimed at understanding the war, by looking at its different aspects.

Our series of talks about different aspects of the war will give you an easy way to understand what happened and why it matters.

Our July speaker is Will Pyke, whose talk is

'Bournemouth School and the Western Front 1914-1915'

Come along and hear him on Wednesday 8th July at 11.00am, in Bournemouth Library.

The talk will last for about half an hour, with teas & coffees afterwards and the chance to 'Ask Will'.
